

DIE THEATEREDITION

Die Theateredition was founded in 2006 by renowned producer François Duplat. As the first audiovisual label for theatre and drama within the German-speaking market, its aim is to reflect the diversity of the modern classical drama scene. Maria Walburga Stürzer has been head of Die Theateredition since 2011, during which time she has developed the catalogue through the addition of numerous high-class theatre productions.

Die Theateredition has gained a significant position in the German-speaking market following a series of notable audiovisual releases. These include Peter Stein's legendary staging of Goethe's Faust with Bruno Ganz in the title role (the label's best-selling title); Schiller's Kabale und Liebe; and the 10-DVD box set Klassiker des Theaters.

Die Theateredition joined the Naxos Music Group in 2018 with a mission to produce award-winning titles for an international market.
