Reviews and Ratings

Over the years, Naxos recordings have received outstanding critical acclaim in virtually every specialized and general-interest publication around the world. In this catalogue we are only listing ratings which summarize a more detailed review in a single number or a single rating. Our recordings receive favourable reviews in many other publications which, however, do not use a simple, easy to understand rating system.

Penguin Guide: More than half of all current Naxos recordings are included in various editions of the authoritative Penguin Guide. The very highest rating is * with a Ⓢ awarded only to recordings of exceptional quality. Otherwise, the * rating is the highest awarded to other recordings ... it means that a recording features an outstanding performance and has equally outstanding sound. Brackets around one star signify a slight reservation regarding either sound or performance. In this catalogue we only list the Ⓢ *, Ⓢ *, * and * recordings although many more of our recordings also received  ratings, indicating a good performance and recording of today's normal high standard.

- PG  An outstanding performance and recording
PG Ⓢ An outstanding performance and recording in every way
PG Ⓢ A 'Key' recording which may be used as a basis for a personal collection
PG * A really exceptional issue on every count

Gramophone: This is the oldest monthly British magazine devoted to recorded music. It does not have a rating system and we can therefore only indicate which of our Naxos recordings were included in the monthly Editor's Choice category and which were pronounced Disc of the Month.

- G Grammy Award
G Grammy
G A N Gramophone Award Nomination
G Awards Gramophone Award Winner

BBC Music Magazine: Unlike Gramophone, the BBC Music Magazine is not primarily a publication devoted to recorded music but to music in general (as its title indicates). Nevertheless, the publication has been increasing its coverage of classical and other recordings and must now be considered a serious rival to Gramophone. The highest rating given to a recording is ☆ outstanding.

The Absolute Sound: Super CD

FOREWORD BY KLAUS HEYMANN, Founder, NAXOS

In 2007 Naxos celebrated its 20th anniversary with parties and concerts in Sydney, Paris, London, Cologne, Madrid, Athens, Wellington, New York, Nashville, Tokyo and Hong Kong. In these 20 years, what started as a humble budget classical music label has developed into a music-based media and distribution company which is the undisputed industry leader in terms of the depth and breadth of its catalogue and the number of new releases.

In the anniversary year, Naxos released more than 200 albums recorded in 25 countries, from New Zealand in the South to Norway in the North, and from Dublin in the West to Tokyo in the East. With subsidiaries in all important music markets, the Naxos group of companies is also now the leading distributor of independent classical CD and DVD labels and a pioneer in the digital distribution of classical music.

Also in 2007, we launched the new download site www.classicsonline.com which immediately began making an important contribution to the worldwide accessibility of classical music recordings. The Naxos catalogue, and other leading classical catalogues, became available in the unprotected MP3 format, the most convenient digital format, and in the high resolution of 320 kbps.

By the end of 2008, our catalogue will include close to 3,700 recordings, offering music lovers a veritable encyclopedia of classical music. On average, we are releasing more than 20 newly recorded titles per month – more than any other record label, independent or major.

As important as the sheer breadth of choice is the quality of what is there. Look at the reviews and you'll see that Naxos enjoys immense critical respect, as witnessed by more than 800 Penguin Guide 3-star recommendations and over 130 "Editor's Choices" in Gramophone magazine, as well as thousands of enthusiastic letters and emails received every year.

A sense of adventure keeps us all fresh and innovative too. In addition to superb new versions of the established core classics, we have made remarkable treasures accessible to adventurous music lovers – from British string quartets and 'Japanese Classical Favourites' to 20th-century American music and symphonies of the 18th century that have never been recorded before. I hope we never lose the joy of discovering something new.

In fact, a key benefit to music championed by Naxos is that works once considered unusual, such as Philip Glass's Violin Concerto or Hummel's Masses [which our affiliated publishing company, Artaria Editions, also published], can actually become popular enough to enter the mainstream repertoire. Of that I confess to being very proud.

Naxos is a label created, developed, marketed and distributed by music lovers for other music lovers; and yes, we are serious about our music. Also, we know that a responsible market leader must do everything possible to develop the market as a whole. To this end, we invest heavily in educational projects to build tomorrow's audience.

Another telling example of our intent to broaden and develop our remit is the commissioning of Sir Peter Maxwell Davies to write 10 "Naxos Quartets", the first of which appeared in late 2004, in a ground-breaking venture which sees a composer writing and naming a series of works after a label. The last two quartets, Nos 9 and 10 were released in the autumn of 2008.

We are likewise investing in exciting new digital delivery formats with our Naxos Music Library, which enables a university library or music faculty to offer students complete unlimited access to all Naxos and Marco Polo recordings [and the recordings of more than 50 other independent labels, as well] at the click of a mouse. It has also become an invaluable resource for professional musicians, many of whom confess to not being able to live without the service anymore. The Naxos instinct for innovation ensures that it will continue as what the Los Angeles Times has called an "industry leader" in the digital distribution of music.

We continue to invest a great deal of effort and money into www.naxos.com. A highly sophisticated database allows unprecedented access to information about musical works, and enables the visitor to the site to find all recordings in our catalogues; those who subscribe can listen to every single track. The site also offers information about other independent CD and DVD labels, making it a veritable portal for the world of recorded classical music.

Our dedication to classical music has been rewarded with unparalleled acclaim from the media, not only from specialized magazines such as Gramophone, BBC Music Magazine and Stereophile but also from major international newspapers such as The Times, The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, the Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung, Chicago Tribune and others. And there are the multiple Grammys for William Bolcom's Songs of Innocence and Songs of Experience and Joan Tower's Made in America album.

However, a more important testament to Naxos is the large number of letters of appreciation we receive from music lovers around the world. Making classical music more affordable and accessible has always been at the core of what we do and will remain so for many years to come.

Klaus Heymann
