

A colleague of Béla Bartók in the collection of Turkish folk-music, Adnan Saygun was among the most distinguished Turkish composers of the twentieth century, writing music that combined Western techniques with essential elements of his country's own musical traditions. His piano music includes works that explore characteristic 'limping' rhythm, Turkish dance-forms and, in Inci's Book, children's pieces of charm and simplicity.

Ahmet Adnan
SAYGUN
 (1907–1991)
Piano Music

- | | | |
|--------------|---|--------------|
| 1–3 | Anadolu'dan (From Anatolia), Op. 25 (1945) | 8:47 |
| 4–15 | Aksak Tartılar Üzerine 12 Prelüd
(12 Preludes on Aksak Rhythms), Op. 45 (1967) | 23:21 |
| 16–22 | İnci'nin Kitabı (Inci's Book), Op. 10 (1934) | 8:49 |
| 23–32 | Aksak Tartılar Üzerine 10 Taslak
(10 Sketches on Aksak Rhythms), Op. 58 (1976) | 19:51 |
| 33–35 | Sonatina, Op. 15 (1938) | 10:07 |

Full track details are given in the booklet

Zeynep Üçbaşaran, Piano

Recorded at Abravanel Hall, Music Academy of the West, Santa Barbara, California, USA, on 23, 24 & 27 February 2007 • Producer: Ömer Eğecioglu • Engineer: Barbara Hirsch (Opus I Recording)
 Editor: Kevin Kelly • Mastering: Sjoerd Koppert • Publishing: Southern Music Publishing Company, Inc.,
 New York (1–3, 16–22, 33–35); Peermusic Classical, New York / Hamburg (4–15, 23–32)
 Booklet notes: Keith Anderson • Cover photo: Zelve Valley, Cappadocia (Artegos / Dreamstime.com)

