

8.223895-6

The son of Richard Wagner and his future wife Cosima, daughter of Liszt, Siegfried Wagner followed, in his operas, something of the example of his teacher Humperdinck. Banadietrich, like Der Bärenhüter and Schwarzwanenreich, is set in the mysterious magic world of the Dark Ages, with the warrior Dietrich, excommunicated for his impious laughter, finally saved by his mysterious water-maiden wife, whom he had once betrayed.

8.223895-6

STEREO

Siegfried WAGNER (1869 – 1930)

Playing
Time: 122'46''

DeutschlandRadio

Banadietrich, Op. 6 (Opera in Three Acts)

Dietrich	André Wenhold
Schwanweiß	Beth Johanning
Wittich	Volker Horn
Dietleib	Andreas Schmidt
Ute	Vivian Hanner
Raunerath / Magister Flederwisch / Teufel (Devil)	Adalbert Waller
Etzel	Johannes Föttinger
Priester (Priest)	Henry Kießli
Mädchen (Girl)	Dorothea Kares
Bursch (Boy)	Johannes Föttinger
Elfe (Fairy)	Beth Johanning
Tod (Death)	Folke Paulsen
Stimme des Herrn (voice of the Lord)	Adalbert Waller / Folke Paulsen / Henry Kießli
Blume (Flower)	Katharina Kühnel

Chor der Rudolstädter Festspiele (unter Mitwirkung des Chors des Theaters Eisenach)

Rudolstadt Festival Chorus (with Eisenach Theatre Chorus)

Thüringer Symphoniker Saalfeld-Rudolstadt / Thuringian Symphony Orchestra Saalfeld-Rudolstadt

Dirigent: Viesturs Gailis / Viesturs Gailis, Conductor

CD 1 (63:22)

1 – 9

Act I

10 – 15

Act II (beginning)

CD 2 (59:24)

1 – 2

Act II (conclusion)

3 – 8

Act III

Libretto Enclosed

Recorded live at the Thüringer Landestheater, Rudolstadt, in June 1995.

Producer: Günter Appenheimer

Publisher: Max Brockhaus

Music Notes: Eckart Kröplin and Peter P. Pachtl

(English Translations: Keith Anderson)

Cover Photo by Sebastian Greuner

MADE IN GERMANY

 English Text /
Deutscher Text

DDD

9158

 MARCO
POLO