

Playing
Time:
56:08

All rights in this sound recording, artwork, texts and translations reserved. Unauthorised public performance, broadcasting and copying of this compact disc prohibited.
© 2003 & © 2004 Naxos Rights International Ltd. - Made in the EU

DDD

8.559164

Charles Tomlinson
GRIFFES
(1884-1920)

- | | | |
|----|--|-------|
| 1 | The White Peacock | 5:37 |
| | Three Poems of Fiona McLeod* | |
| 2 | The Lament of Ian the Proud | 3:58 |
| 3 | Thy Dark Eyes to Mine | 2:46 |
| 4 | The Rose of the Night | 3:49 |
| 5 | Bacchanale | 3:59 |
| 6 | Clouds | 4:08 |
| | Three Tone Pictures | |
| 7 | The Lake at Evening | 3:33 |
| 8 | The Vale of Dreams | 3:02 |
| 9 | The Night Winds | 1:52 |
| 10 | Poem for Flute and Orchestra | 9:58 |
| 11 | The Pleasure Dome of Kubla Khan | 12:29 |

Barbara Quintiliani, Soprano* • Carol Wincenc, Flute
Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra
JoAnn Falletta

Three Poems of Fiona McLeod orchestrated by M. Dressler
Recorded at Kleinhans Music Hall, Buffalo, New York, USA in February 2002.
Produced and Engineered by Tim Handley
Cover Photo: The Buffalo & Erie County Botanical Gardens, Buffalo, New York
(photo: ©Angel Art, graphic artist: Chuck Banas) • American flag, folk artist.

AMERICAN CLASSICS

During his brief life (cut short by pneumonia when he was just 35), Charles Griffes was able to compose music of distinctive beauty. He was fascinated by the music of the French-Impressionist composers Debussy and Ravel but was also influenced by the Russian sounds of Scriabin and Mussorgsky and a German post-romantic idiom. Ultimately, Griffes found his own unique voice that blended all of these characteristics. Griffes had a passion for verse and almost all of his orchestral scores are linked in some way to poetic or literary ideas. The works on this disc are notable examples of Griffes' "tone pictures" with the exception of the Poem for Flute and Orchestra, a miniature tone poem without associated text or images.

Booklet notes in English
Kommentar auf Deutsch
Includes sung texts

www.

naxos.com

