

Playing
Time:
64:46

All rights in this sound recording, artwork, texts and translations reserved. Unauthorised public performance, broadcasting and copying of this compact disc prohibited. © & © 2008 Naxos Rights International Ltd. Disc made in Canada. Printed and assembled in USA.

John CORIGLIANO
(b. 1938)

- 1-6 The Red Violin Caprices
(for violin solo) (2002)* 9:33
- 7-10 Sonata for Violin and Piano (1963)† 23:08

Virgil
THOMSON
(1896-1989)

- 11-13 Three Portraits (1944)
(arr. Samuel Dushkin, 1947)† 6:12
- 14-18 Five Ladies (1983)† 8:29
- 19-26 Eight Portraits (1928-1940) 17:23

*WORLD PREMIÈRE RECORDING

Philippe Quint, Violin
William Wolfram, Piano†

A detailed track list can be found on page 2 of the booklet Recorded at Glenn Gould Studio, C.B.C. Toronto, Canada, on 10th and 11th June, 2007 (tracks 7-26), and at St John Chrysostom Church, Newmarket, Canada, on 27th January, 2008 (tracks 1-6)

Producers: Bonnie Silver and Norbert Kraft
Engineer: Norbert Kraft • Editor: Bonnie Silver
Booklet notes: Richard Whitehouse

Philippe Quint plays the 1723 'Ex-Keisewetter' Antonio
Stradivari violin, kindly on loan from Clement and Karen Arrison through the Stradivari Society, Chicago

Cover photograph: Red Violin by Jean-François Dupuis
(Dreamstime.com)

AMERICAN CLASSICS

John Corigliano has revisited his score for the 1997 film The Red Violin several times. In The Red Violin Caprices, content is allied to a technique making strenuous demands on the performer. The pensive Theme is identical in substance to that heard in the earlier Chaconne (Naxos 8.559306), and its five variations range in style from the Paganinian virtuosity of the first, to the restrained 'folk' tinge of the third. Corigliano's Violin Sonata is among his earliest acknowledged works, its final Allegro enhanced by some scintillating instrumental interplay. Coming from a very different musical background, and representing a very different musical aesthetic, Virgil Thomson's music displays a skilful assimilation of Gallic clarity and an American-derived nostalgia, with hymn tunes and traditional songs often being evident.

"I just heard Philippe Quint's new recording of my Red Violin Caprices and he was absolutely amazing."

– John Corigliano

www.naxos.com

6 36943 93642 9