Beethoven and the
Piano Concerto

Beethoven, the finest piano virtuoso Vienna had seen, better even than Mozart, wrote just five piano concertos. He completed No. 5, the 'Emperor', at the age of forty-one. He lived for another fifteen years, but there were no more piano concertos. Why? Because his deafness had taken hold to such an extent that he could no longer perform in public. A disastrous performance of his 'Archduke' Trio brought his performing career to a close. One more attempt at composing a piano concerto was abandoned. We can mourn the loss, or be grateful for the sublime masterpieces that he gave us.
