

Gustave Flaubert

Madame Bovary

Read by Juliet Stevenson

In Madame Bovary, one of the great novels of nineteenth-century France, Flaubert draws a deeply felt and sympathetic portrait of a woman who, having married a country doctor and found herself unhappy with a rural, genteel existence, longs for love and excitement. However, her aspirations and her desires to escape only bring her further disappointment and eventually lead to unexpected, painful consequences. Flaubert's critical portrait of bourgeois provincial life remains as powerful as ever.

Juliet Stevenson is one of the UK's leading actresses. Her film credits include Truly, Madly, Deeply and Emma. For Naxos AudioBooks, she has recorded Lady Windermere's Fan, Sense and Sensibility, To the Lighthouse, Middlemarch and many more.
