

IN PRAISE OF SHADOWS

Junichirō Tanizaki

Read by David Rintoul

Translated by Thomas J. Harper and Edward G. Seidensticker

'Were it not for shadows, there would be no beauty.'

In Praise of Shadows is an eloquent tribute to the austere beauty of traditional Japanese aesthetics. Through architecture, ceramics, theatre, food, women and even toilets, Tanizaki explains the essence of shadows and darkness, and how they are able to augment beauty. He laments the heavy electric lighting of the West and its introduction to Japan, and shows how the artificial, bright and polished aesthetic of the West contrasts unfavourably with the moody and natural light of the East. Dreamy, melancholic and mysterious, In Praise of Shadows is a haunting insight into a forgotten world.

David Rintoul has recorded around 200 audiobooks. He has worked in many of Britain's major theatres and has played Mr Darcy in the BBC's Pride and Prejudice and the title role in ITV's Doctor Finlay. Films include My Week with Marilyn, The Iron Lady and The Ghost Writer.

Visit us online at naxosaudiobooks.com

NAXOS
AudioBooks
NON-FICTION
UNABRIDGED

Translation © 1977
Leete's Island Books, Inc.;
published by arrangement with
Susan Schulman Literary Agency
© 2017 Naxos AudioBooks
Artwork © 2017 Naxos AudioBooks
Made in Austria

Total time:
1:28:19

2 CDS
NA0311

ISBN: 978-1-78198-136-8
9 781781 981368