

The Life and Works of Chopin

Written and read by Jeremy Siepmann
with Anton Lesser

Fryderyk Chopin is the pianist-composer par excellence. Regarded as one of the most mesmeric performers of his day, he lives on in his music – his waltzes, mazurkas, études, preludes, nocturnes, three piano sonatas, two piano concertos and much more. Here, his life, from his birth in Poland, his famous affair with the French writer George Sand, and his death at the age of 49 in Paris, is told with his music featuring prominently.

Formerly Head of Music at the BBC World Service, Jeremy Siepmann is an internationally known musician, teacher, broadcaster and author. He is the author and presenter of two major series for Naxos, Classics Explained and Life and Works of the Great Composers.
