

H.E. MARSHALL OUR ISLAND STORY

from The Romans in Britain to Queen Victoria

Read by Anna Bentinck and Daniel Philpott

Complete and unabridged recording of the famous and bestselling Edwardian history book for children – a combination of English history, folklore and fairy tales. We journey through the history of England beginning with the stories of Albion and Brutus, encountering famous English legends and concluding with the reign of Queen Victoria. Many well-known historians declare that this book first sparked their interest in history.

Henrietta Elizabeth Marshall was born in Scotland and educated at a girls' boarding school in Melrose. Apart from a stint working for Glasgow University, she made her living largely through writing. Our Island Story was a bestseller when first published in 1905, and remains a favourite with parents and children today.
