FARKAS Orchestral Music, Volume Four

This fourth release in a series of recordings of orchestral music by the Hungarian composer Ferenc Farkas (1905–2000) concentrates on his music for flute and strings, highlighting the characteristics that make his music so appealing: catchy tunes, transparent scoring, buoyant rhythms and a fondness for Baroque forms and folk-dances. Two other concertante pieces – featuring soprano and harpsichord – offer contrast.

Fanfare reviewers on earlier volumes in this series:

Vol. 1 – 'the sound is good, with excellent balance between soloists and orchestra. Recommended'

Vol. 2 – 'a fine introduction to the accessible but varied art of Farkas. Definitely recommended'

Vol. 3 – 'For all its Neoclassical element, Farkas's work never gives a feeling of detachment: It contains both heart and wit, and these musicians fully exploit those characteristics'
