

Rossini

La Cambiale di matrimonio

Farsa comica in un atto di Gaetano Rossi

The plot of La cambiale di matrimonio, which Rossini composed when he was just eighteen years old, revolves around the farcical attempts of Tobia Mill, a rich English merchant, to combine business with pleasure by forcing his daughter, the lovely Fanny (“the merchandise”) to marry Slook, his rich colonial correspondent from America, by means of a bill of exchange. Eventually it is the gallant Slook himself who persuades Mill to allow Fanny to marry her true love, Edoardo Milfort. This Rossini Opera Festival–Pesaro production features two well-established singers, Désirée Rancatore and Saimir Pirgu, who are joined by three promising young singers: Fabio Maria Capitanucci, Enrico Maria Marabelli and Maria Gortsevskaya.

Tobia Mill Paolo Bordogna, Baritone
Fanny Désirée Rancatore, Soprano
Edoardo Milfort Saimir Pirgu, Tenor
Slook Fabio Maria Capitanucci, Baritone
Norton Enrico Maria Marabelli, Baritone
Clarina Maria Gortsevskaya, Soprano

Orchestra Haydn di Bolzano e Trento

Umberto Benedetti Michelangeli

Director: Luigi Squarzina

Sets and Costumes: Giovanni Agostinucci

Filmed at the Rossini Opera Festival, Pesaro, Italy, August 2006

Video director: Tiziano Mancini

A production of Dynamic SRL, Italy

Amici e Sostenitori
del Rossini
Opera Festival

Cover photo by Amati Bacciardi, Italy