

Total time
11:04:12

9 CDs

NA0179

Georgette Heyer

The Masqueraders

Read by Ruth Sillers

After participating in the Jacobite Rising of 1745, Robin and Prudence, brother and sister, become engaged in a swashbuckling, romantic adventure. Our hero and heroine must cross-dress and switch genders if they are to escape prosecution – a humorous move that allows Heyer to explore the manners and language affectations of the period as the two romp through the elite saloons and clubs of London.

But what the two don't foresee is that they might fall in love along the way: Prudence with the elegant and dashing Sir Anthony Fanshawe, and Robin with the charming Letitia Grayson. Can the two unmask themselves without losing their lives?

Ruth Sillers began her career with the National Youth Theatre. Her theatre work includes productions for the Royal National Theatre Studio and the Donmar Warehouse. She has performed in several plays for BBC Radio Drama, including Noel Coward's Easy Virtue and Medical Detectives. She also reads regularly for Radio 4 and the BBC World Service. For Naxos AudioBooks, she has read Lady Susan, Life & Works – Johann Sebastian Bach, Life & Works – Johannes Brahms and The Rape of Lucrece.

Visit us online at naxosaudiobooks.com

NAXOS
AudioBooks
COMPLETE
CLASSICS
UNABRIDGED

ISBN: 978-184-379-851-4

9 781843 798514